Water ring Vacuum Pumps

The water ring vacuum pumps has an impeller with blades that is connected with the center hub of the pump. The pump has water in the impeller that some blades are completely dipped in the water while some are out of water.

We offer the water ring pumps made from high quality different materials like cast iron, partial stainless steel and complete stainless steel.

Liquid Ring Vacuum Pump

The liquid ring vacuum pumps has the functioning based on the liquid that is filled in the pump. The liquid is filled in the impeller and operated by the centrifugal acceleration. This creates a circular ring in the internal part of the casting and helps in reducing the vacuum from the area. The liquid ring vacuum pump is used in number of industries according to the needs.

High Vacuum Pumps

The high vacuum pumps are used where the pumps need to work with high pressure vacuum. These pumps have the capacity to create ultra high vacuum pressure in the area. We offer number of high vacuum pumps that vary in their working and dimensions. They are made from high quality material to make them durable and efficient in their working condition.
